

Chapters 66

1. This chapter begins with the Lord speaking. The declaration that "My hand made all these things" (v. 2) ought to put what thoughts in our minds?
2. Why would one "tremble" at God's word? (2)
3. In vs. 3 there is a contrast between righteous acts (killing an ox; sacrificing a lamb; grain offering; burning incense) and violent and wrong acts. What is the point?
4. What is the birth and delivery that (7-9) is talking about?
5. Verse 24, "worm will not die and fire not quenched" is a reference to what in the N.T.?
6. How does this chapter and book end?
 - Is it the way you might expect?

Thought Questions:

- If you were to explain the book of Isaiah to someone, what is this book about?
- How do we see God in Isaiah?
