

The Two Mindsets

The battle for the mind is not just about doing the right things in life. It is about a mindset—a way one thinks and a way one views the world they live in. Worldviews can be found in many areas, from politics to science. The two different worldviews in science are: naturalism and creationism. From that standpoint and starting point, views about God, social issues, morality are defined. Only 4% of Gen Z has a Biblical worldview.

This lesson will identify the two mindsets that define life and choices today.
