Dear brethren and friends,
hope to find you doing fine. Here's my January 2026 report about my work in Rome.

God bless you. Love and happy new year.

Stefano

NEWS FROM ROME (ITALY)

Rome, January 10, 2026

Dear brethren in Him, my wife Antonella and I hope to find each one of you doing fine, enjoying every spiritual and material blessing. We would like to express to you our sincere feelings of thankfulness for all that you're doing in our behalf, allowing us to preach the power of the gospel also in Rome, wordily Capital of false religious teaching and human void traditions. This week the actual pope closed the "holy door" in Saint Peter Basilica, so officially ending the Jubilee of 2025. You can't imagine the media rumors and posts about it. None talks about indulgencies, purgatory and else (all Catholic teaching about Jubilee) and everything passes as a "Christian tradition"! Biblical ignorance is so deep that is difficult even to think where or how to start explaining the truth about it. This is our daily reality. Very sad.

PERSONAL NEWS. We are doing very well. Our regular medical checks are good and all seems to proceed fine. Up to now, all seems to go well. Our three grandchildren (Alessandro 11, Alice 9, Samuele 6) are also growing well. They are back to school, after this period of vacation and so are back to their daily activities. We are doing what we can to help our daughter in managing all the duties.

Our son Paolo is doing well. In spite of his heavy work schedule, he is also helping in the church work. He must be a reference point for the young brethren, so to build up a sound new generation of Christians able to carry on (and improve) the local work done so far.

LOCAL PREACHING ACTIVITY. Our local work is going fine. Courage, patience, sound teachings are the "weapons" of our spiritual fight. I am trying to focus my general teaching to the importance of creating a solid sense of personal responsibility within a "body" made up by different people and talents. Some are growing faster than others, as normally happens, but the fundamental thing is the common goal to reach together.

I'm always working in the personal Bible classes with the brethren, and I see good fruit out of it: growth, kindness, participation, general interest.

The Chinese group is attending with good attitude and respect. As I already wrote in the past, some of them are moving out of Rome for work but at the same time others are coming in and joining us. The language barrier is always a problem but through translators and language apps things are going better.

During the midweek class on Wednesday, I am still commenting John's gospel: we reached chapter 17.

Our general attendance runs around 38 (including the few brethren that still join us at distance through Zoom).
