His Voice, My Voice

Jason Hardin

Psalm 29 is a poetic encouragement to fearfully respect "the voice of the LORD."

- The voice of the LORD is over the waters (v. 3)
- The voice of the LORD is powerful and full of majesty (v. 4)
- The voice of the LORD breaks the strongest cedars (v. 5)
- The voice of the LORD flashes forth flames of fire (v. 7)
- The voice of the LORD shakes the wilderness (v. 8)
- The voice of the LORD strips the forests bare (v. 9)

God Almighty could crush every single one of us in an instant using nothing more than his voice. But he hasn't. In fact, he's graciously called on his creation to "ascribe"—to give credit, to recognize, to acknowledge what rightly belongs to him. With that in mind, listen to the call of Psalm 29:1-2:

Ascribe to the LORD, O sons of God,
ascribe to the LORD glory and strength.

Ascribe to the LORD the glory due his name;
worship the LORD in the splendor of holiness.

Heavenly beings are ascribing. Creation is ascribing all around us today. You'll likely use your voice a lot this week. Be thankful for that blessing, but realize that the primary reason you have a voice is to give credit where credit is due. To humbly recognize. To joyfully acknowledge what rightly belongs to God. Today is an undeserved opportunity to "offer up a sacrifice of praise, the fruit of lips that acknowledge his name" (Heb 13:15). He is worthy. Let's worship him together in the splendor of holiness.
