His Steadfast Love, Made Personal

Jason Hardin

Throughout Psalm 31, David celebrates the steadfast love of God.

> For you are my rock and my fortress;
> and for your name's sake you lead me and guide me… (31:3)
> I will rejoice and be glad in your steadfast love,
> because you have seen my affliction;
> you have known the distress of my soul,
> and you have not delivered me into the hand of the enemy;
> you have set my feet in a broad place. (31:7-8)
> Oh, how abundant is your goodness,
> which you have stored up for those who fear you
> and worked for those who take refuge in you… (31:19)

Then, in 31:21, David references a specific moment in his life:

> Blessed be the LORD, for he has wondrously shown
> his steadfast love to me when I was in a besieged city.

Think about that. David directly connected God's steadfast love to a specific time in his life. Can I do the same? Can you? Wouldn't making Psalm 31:21 personal today be a great way of answering the Philippians 4:8 call to think about things that are true, honorable, just, pure, lovely, commendable, excellent, and worthy of praise?

> Blessed be the LORD, for he has wondrously shown > his steadfast love to me when…

What comes to your mind? This is our opportunity today—to recognize, make personal, and praise the same God for the steadfast love he has wondrously shown in all of our lives. We're glad you're here. Together, let's joyfully say with David and to each other throughout the day, "Blessed be the LORD."
